The aim of this booklet is to present a profile of average Japanese workers through selected statistical figures.

It contains labor statistics relevant to successive stages of a worker's life from school graduation and entering an enterprise to reaching their retirement age and receiving retirement allowances. Almost all the statistics are based upon official sources. The statistics on employment, wages and working hours constitute the core of this booklet.

As it is a matter of great concern presently, the booklet also contains statistics on the increase of female and non-regular staffs, as well as changes in the employment structure.

Tables and graphs are utilized for aiding visual understanding, and statistics of major countries are included to enable international comparisons to be made.

III. Employment

Source: Statistics Bureau, Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications, Labour Force Survey

Notes: Occupational categories were revised in the 1980 national census, and Labour Force Survey accordingly changed as follows from January 1981:

- 1) Sanitation workers formerly included under the Protective service workers and service workers category were included among Laborers.
- 2) Mining and guarrying workers were renamed "Mining workers."
- 3) Unskilled workers were renamed "Laborers."
- 4) Figures in parentheses refers to the percentage of all employees in 2013.
- 5) Figures in 2011 do not included data from three prefectures (Iwate, Miyagi and Fukushima), because of the Great East Japan Earthquake.

Notes: 1) Ratio of Active Openings to Applicants = Active job openings / Active job applications

- 2) New graduates are excluded, and part-time workers are included.
- 3) The ratio of active openings to applicants by age is calculated by dividing the number of job openings by the total number of monthly active job applicants in each applicable age range (11 age groups covering five years each) to compute the number of employment opportunities per applicant concerning an individual job opening, and aggregating these job opportunities for all active job openings. The number of monthly active job openings by age is calculated by multiplying the number of monthly active job applicants by age by the ratio of active openings by age.

lotes: 1) The major enterprises surveyed are, as a rule, those listed in the First Section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange or Osaka Stock Exchange that are capitalized at 2 billion yen or more, have 1,000 or more employees, and have labor unions. The small and medium scale enterprises surveyed are approximately 8,000 enterprises that have fewer than 300 employees and have labor unions.

- 2) Figures for major enterprises for 1979 and earlier are simple averages per enterprise, and from 1980 they are weighted averages based on union membership per enterprise. All figures for small and medium scale enterprises are simple averages per enterprise.
- 3) Annual increase rates in lump-sum payments over the previous year were calculated from the increase rates for enterprises for which the figures from the previous year for the same enterprise could be compared. Increase rates are not determined by comparison of the agreed increase for the current year with that of the previous year.
- 4) Compilations include NTT and Japan Tobacco Incorporated, construction and services from 1987, and the seven JR corporations from 1988.
- 5) The survey for small and medium scale enterprises was abolished after FY 2008.

Trend in Hours Actually Worked and Non-scheduled Hours Worked

実労働時間数及び所定外労働時間数の推移

Source: Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare, Monthly Labour Survey

Notes: 1) The total of hours actually worked is the sum of scheduled hours worked and non-scheduled hours worked. The scheduled hours worked is the number of hours actually worked between the start and close of working hours according to the employment regulations of an establishment, and the non-scheduled hours worked is the number of hours actually worked when starting work early, working overtime, being called in for unscheduled work, working on holidays, etc.

- 2) Annual hours worked were calculated by multiplying monthly hours worked by 12 and rounding off fractions below the decimal point.
- 3) Establishments with 30 employees or more were surveyed.
